

General Guidelines for National and International Volunteers

Thank you for expressing your interest in volunteering with EDREST.

We appreciate your willingness to contribute to our endeavors. We work on a range of different activities in Mumbai to help improve the quality of life for its people and to help build entrepreneurship environment and culture.

Before committing to volunteering or internship with us, we recommend you go through all the information mentioned in this document.

Location: Mumbai, officially named Bombay until 1995, is the financial capital of India and the home of India's Bollywood film industry. It's a cosmopolitan and increasingly westernized city that's an important base for industry and foreign trade. Mumbai is located in the state of Maharashtra, on the west coast of India. Mumbai now has a rapidly growing population of over 20 million people, making it one of the world's largest cities and the largest city in India. A large majority of the people are migrants from other states, who have come in search of employment. The international and domestic terminals at Mumbai Chattrapathi Shivaji Airport are separately located in different suburbs. The international terminal is in Andheri East while the domestic terminal is in Santa Cruz, 30 kilometres (19 miles) and kilometres 24 (15 miles) north of the city respectively.

Climate: Mumbai has a tropical climate. It experiences very hot, humid weather during April and May, with temperatures around 35 degrees Celsius (95 Fahrenheit). The onset of the monsoon begins in early June and rain is experienced until October. The weather remains humid, but the temperature drops to around 26-30 degrees Celsius (80-86 Fahrenheit) during the day. Following the monsoon the weather gradually becomes cooler and drier until winter sets in, late November. Winters in Mumbai are pleasant, with top temperatures of 25-28 degrees Celsius (77-82 Fahrenheit) during the day, although nights can be a little chilly.

Volunteering Options

The following are volunteering options that can be pursued depending on your skill set, area of interest and the time you have at hand.

Long term Volunteering - This requires a minimum commitment of a month. Based on the form below we will mix and match your skills sets and your areas of interest to the needs of the organization. This could range from volunteering on EDREST's existing and upcoming projects (more details can be exchanged through emails). EDREST team will assist you to organize your accommodation and meals at your budget. Please give us an idea of your daily budget in the form below.

Short Term Volunteering - This requires anywhere from a day to a month commitment. Short term volunteering is ideal both for individuals and working professionals to work on short assignments with EDREST community teams.

Please note that all expenses will have to be borne by the volunteer/intern during the course of their volunteering with EDREST.
